INFORMATION TO PARTICIPANTS

Bangalore Amateur Radio Club (BARC) announces the 19th Edition of Bangalore ARDF or Bangalore VHF Day Foxhunt to be held on 11th November 2018

Keeping with the changing times and the worsening traffic conditions, it is proposed to have the following modifications done in the overall plan of event.

1. The normal tradition of all hunting teams assembling at the center of the city for flag off has been modified. Instead, all hunters will assemble at a pre-determined in the general direction of the fox location for the flag off and start the hunt .
2. The Prize Distribution venue will be located about 25 km from city center and will be intimated in advance.
3. The assembly time will be 7.45 AM and hunting teams will be issued Competition cards which is mandatory for submission at the foxhole to be eligible to claim the prizes.
4. All Hunting teams will be Flagged off at 8.30 AM and can proceed to take up vantage points for tracking the signal.
5. The Fox will be located within an Aerial distance of 15 KM from the Prize Distribution venue.
6. Fox Transmission shall start at 9AM and the duration of the hunt will be two hours.
7. Transmission shall be at every fifth minute and will contain MOE in Morse Tone. 30 seconds on high power and 30 seconds on low power ending with the call sign of the fox.
8. The signal shall be vertically polarized and Fox Frequency will be on 145.000 MHZ
9. Any QRM on this frequency, the Fox Transmission will be shifted to back-up frequency which will be announced during the course of the hunt
10. All hunting teams will return to the Prize Distribution venue after the first three teams reach the fox hole location.
11. Special prize is given to the Student Category of Hunters and SWL's to encourage future participation.
12. Last date for registration is 07th November 2018
13. Registration Fee Rs. 350/ Participant
